

When and Where to Find Clearwire 4G in Q4

By Jennifer Martinez | Thursday, October 22, 2009

Clearwire, Comcast and Sprint today provided a timeframe of when during the fourth quarter of this year they plan to launch 4G wireless broadband service in 11 U.S. markets. Comcast will be pairing up with the other two providers in Seattle, Philadelphia and Chicago. Clearwire's 4G service is already available in 14 U.S. cities, including Las Vegas and Atlanta, and has said it plans to roll out 4G to Silicon Valley in 2010.

Want to see when 4G is coming to your area? Here's a guide:

State	City/Region	4G Rollout Date	Service Provider
Pennsylvania	Philadelphia	In the next several weeks	Clearwire, Comcast and Sprint
Illinois	Chicago	November	Clearwire, Comcast and Sprint
North Carolina	Charlotte, Greensboro, Raleigh	November	Clearwire and Sprint
Texas	Austin, Fort Worth/Dallas, San Antonio	November	Clearwire and Sprint
Hawaii	Honolulu, Maui	Early December	Clearwire and Sprint
Washington	Seattle	Early December	Clearwire, Comcast and Sprint